COMING SOON

GREAT SALT LAKE AUDUBON IS OFFERING A SAN BLAS BIRDING TOUR FUNDRAISER!!

This winter we are offering an exciting birding trip to San Blas, Mexico with renowned excellent birding guide, Mark Stackhouse. A small portion of the fee will go to GSLA as a fundraiser. Consider joining us. Get your reservation in ASAP as there are a limited number of spots and we expect the demand will be high. See you in San Blas!! Look for the insert in this issue for details.

Sunflower seed orders must be received by Saturday, October 4th.

GSLA September Family Activity: The Amazing Bird Race Sunday, September 21st, 3-4:30pm
See page 6 for details.

GSLA's 2014 Annual Fundraiser

Friday, October 3rd, 6-9PM

Come hang out with us at the Songbird Social - GSLA's annual fundraising celebration! This year's event will take place at the Organ Loft, home of The Mighty Wurlitzer. Blaine Gale, the Organ Loft's 78-year-old house organist, will be performing for us. Other entertainment will include stand-up comedy, and violinist Katya Murafa, playing her beautiful piano and violin tunes during social hour. Raffle prizes include a two-night stay at The Johnson Mill Bed & Breakfast in Midway (surrounded by great birding grounds), an annual membership to the Tracy Aviary, art by Janice Gardner and Karri Smith, a season pass to the Organ Loft's Silent Movie Series (accompanied by live music from the Organ), an exclusive tour of the Ambassador Duck Club's private land where you can see heron, curlew, owls, hawks, falcons, and other shorebirds up close and personal, and includes lunch. These are just a few of the prizes being offered this year. See the insert for all the details and a reservation form.

An open wine and beer bar will accompany a buffet dinner, music and entertainment. We enjoy seeing and celebrating with you every year, so please come say hi and support the efforts of Great Salt Lake Audubon. We can't do this without you! Early-bird tickets are $50. GSLA conservation efforts this year have included lobbying against the Crow hunt, continued collaboration with the Shared Solution Coalition to stop the proposed West Davis Freeway, providing input to Salt Lake City Parks Dept as they proceed in their restoration of Miller Park Bird Refuge, and working to save the beloved Henefer Sage-Grouse Lek from development. If you can't make the event, please consider donating to these efforts. Thank you and we look forward to celebrating with you!

BIRDS 'n BITES RESUME

Join us on the third Tuesday of the month at The Education Center in the Tracy Aviary at Liberty Park for an informative hour and refreshments. Doors open at 6:30, the programs begin at 7PM. Enter Liberty Park at 600 E and 900 So..

Sept. 16th - We will take the beginning hour of the meeting to honor longtime valued volunteer, Keith Johnson. Please join us to celebrate his many years of service to GSLA, followed by graduate students from Westminster college who will report on their research projects.

Oct. 21st - Wildlife Rehabilitation Center of Northern Utah. The center accepts over 2,000 animals each year, including owls, pelicans, ducks, hummingbirds, raptors and native mammals, to rehabilitate and release back into the wild. The presenters will be talking about conservation and personal stories from the center. Come learn about what they do and how they help Utah's wildlife and wild habitat.

Benefits Reminder to National Audubon Society Members:

New National Audubon Society (NAS) members will receive The Pelican free as a courtesy, as part of their first year membership. Thereafter, should renewing NAS members wish to continue to receive The Pelican either in paper form or electronically, they will need to join GSLA. All other benefits such as participation in field trips, bird counts, general meetings, legislative representation, will continue to be granted to all NAS members.

BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

JULY/AUGUST 2014

By Jenn Waterhouse, Secretary

Summertime has kept Great Salt Lake Audubon busy! This year's Basin and Range weekend seminar at Bear Lake was a great success. 48 people attended, and in addition to the six fantastic classes spanning from the hydrology and geology of Bear Lake to managing sensitive species in Utah, children's sessions were offered for the first time, focusing on nature journaling and appreciation. A sincere thank you to coordinators Jeanne LeBer and Ray Smith, all of the instructors who provided such amazing ecological perspectives, and to all of the attendees who came together for a terrific weekend of life-long learning. We hope to see you there next year!

Welcome to the new Education Committee members, Anne Terry, Aidan Bailey, and Megan Keil. They will join existing committee members in creating a new line-up of family and children's activities for the coming year that will strengthen bonds with nature, explore our local ecology, and build bird appreciation for all attendees. In August, Janet Frost, Nancy Howard and Aidan Bailey teamed to put on a successful short program for children at the Discovery Gateway. A family activity is being planned for September; see the article on page 6 this issue for additional details.

The Jordan River Migratory Bird Reserve continues to thrive under the management of Karri Smith. This summer, large-scale weed control projects have been undertaken to support the native wetland plants and animals on the property. Avocets, geese, ducks, and orioles are a few among a long list of birds who have found plentiful nesting habitat on the Reserve. The important work done on the Reserve has taken many hours volunteered from dedicated individuals. Thank you to the Restoration Committee for their hard work on this wetland gem!

Sylvia Gray and Deedee O'Brien will be stepping down from their positions on the Field Trip Committee. The board extends heartfelt gratitude to their many years of hard work and service organizing our wonderful monthly field trips. See the article in this issue.

The next Birds 'n Bites meeting will be in September—be sure to mark on your calendar each third Tuesday of the month to join us for an engaging educational program and delicious treats! We have a wonderful line-up of presentations for the coming year, thanks to Jennie Burns, and will have announcements in the Pelicans with more information.

Finally, don't forget to check out the enclosed flyer about our upcoming Song Bird Social. And get your seed orders in ASAP!!

AN UPDATE ON FIELD TRIP COORDINATION

By Heather Dove

Great Salt Lake Audubon owes field trip coordinators, Sylvia Gray and Deedee O'Brien a huge debt of gratitude. For the last 15 years, these two longtime Audubon members have worked tirelessly to plan and coordinate wonderful field trips, month after month. They built the offerings from a few sparse and sporadic trips to a regular series of interesting and varied trips that numbered 60-70 per year.

Many of us in GSLA were initiated by these two individuals whose gentle and encouraging ways opened our eyes and ears to the delightful and addictive world of birding. It should be mentioned that Deedee and Sylvia also contributed to GSLA in a multitude of other ways -- putting on fundraisers, collecting important volunteer data, organizing birding photography classes, and representing GSLA on the GSL Bird Festival planning committee, to name just a few.

After so many years, Deedee and Sylvia have asked to have someone else take the job over. They assure us that they will not be forsaking us, but rather just backing off of long-held duties.

If you see either of these two invaluable GSLA volunteers at a field trip, a monthly meeting, or at one of our other events, please stop by and let them know how much you appreciate them.

And now, you are wondering, who will take up the baton and plan our field trips from here? Well, we are very happy to announce that Paul Lombardi, former GSLA Board member, has agreed to step up. Paul is an avid birder and over the years has developed many contacts in the local birding community. He is an educator by profession, and so we expect that, with his combination of skills, he will prove to be a very able field trip coordinator.

A hearty thanks to you, Sylvia, Deedee and Paul!!

YARD SALE IN SPRING 2015

Save your giveaways!! GSLA will be holding a yard sale in late Spring 2015.

If you don't have room to cache your stuff till then, call Jeanie Boynton 801-910-3044 to arrange storage.

GSLA thanks the voters of Salt Lake County for their support of the Zoo, Arts & Parks program.

SALT LAKE COUNTY'S
SEPT/OCT

HONORING KEITH JOHNSON

By Heather Dove

Keith Johnson first joined GSLA around 1985, when he was intrigued by a notice about a group of GSLA birders, "The One Hundred Club", who were embarking on a multiple trip adventure to identify 100 birds in Utah. This was the beginning of Keith's long association with Great Salt Lake Audubon. Over the years, Keith filled numerous positions and took on many roles on behalf of GSLA. There were two positions, however, that stand out above the rest.

For 15 years (1998-2012), Keith coordinated GSLA's Annual Basin & Range Seminar. As many of you know, GSLA holds this weekend-long event every June, when we gather somewhere in the Great Basin and its mountain ranges to camp, attend fieldtrips, workshops and seminars, and socialize. Over the years, Keith took us to many magical places -- Oak Creek Canyon near Delta, Rosebud in Box Elder County, Ruby Marsh NWR in Nevada, Maple Grove near Scipio, Callao and the Deep Creeks to name a few. With the broad network of scientists, academicians and professionals in the field that he had developed over the years, Keith always lined up a great set of field trip leaders and lecturers. Topics were wide ranging. In addition to a strong focus on birds, there were always other fascinating offerings in areas such as geology, stream ecology, bats, spiders, mammals, native plants, history, anthropology and astronomy. As Keith says, he always strived to make the weekend a social as well as educational event.

Keith's other major contribution was his leadership role in GSLA's Jordan River Migratory Bird Reserve (JRMBR). He was one of the original members that conceived of the plan in 1995 and worked to bring it into existence in 1997. In 2006, when collaborative funding from US Fish & Wildlife ran out for a period of time, Keith stepped up to manage the Reserve and continued to do so through December 2013. The Reserve demanded much time and attention. In addition to ongoing weeding, tree planting and irrigation, Keith oversaw the extension of Willow Creek under 106th South to bring much needed water to the Reserve lands to the north. Without his dedication, persistence and passion, I dare say that the JRMBR would not exist today.

Along the way Keith developed knowledge and skill in many practical areas such as plumbing, wiring, tree removal, and operation and maintenance of small motors. However, throughout his long association with B & R and with the JRMBR, what he came to really enjoy and value most were the lasting, cooperative relationships he developed with the various professionals, government entities, local landowners and a multitude of volunteers.

Keith's lasting legacy to us is the continued existence of the JRMBR and the generation of young people he has inspired to become involved in conservation and restoration.

Please join us at our first Birds 'n Bites meeting of the fall on Tuesday, September 16th when we will take the first part of the hour to honor longtime friend and valued volunteer, Keith Johnson.

Calendar of Events including Field Trips for Sept/Oct 2014

Field Trips for Sept/Oct

Beginning birders are always welcome.

We encourage carpooling on our field trips. Contributions towards gas money would be appreciated.

Be sure to call the field trip leader to confirm that arrangements are still as published.

Physical Difficulty:

EASY - little or no walking, smooth paths.

MODERATE - 1 mile or more, possible rough terrain.

DIFFICULT - extensive walking which could include rough terrain and significant changes in altitude.

Despite our best efforts, ratings for the field trips are still somewhat subjective. Please consult with the leaders.

FAIRFIELD'S OWLS, RAPTORS, AND MORE OWNER/HOST: DARWIN BUNDY

Leader: Jeff Cooper

We'll visit private property in Fairfield where Great Horned, Barn, Long-eared, Short-eared, Screech, and other owl species are known to roost and hunt. My last visit to this location produced Great Horned, Barn, and families of Long-eared Owls to name a few. This is a unique opportunity since the property is a private oasis (aka bird magnet) in Utah County's West Desert. You'll be amazed by what the property owner has done over the years to create great birding habitat around springs, ponds, streams, and a wide range of plants and trees. It truly is a bird oasis in the middle of our desert. In addition to exploring the many hiding places of the private property we'll explore some surrounding areas for hawks, more owls, and other birds we can find. The 30-minute drive between Fairfield and the Park and Ride will have us passing through several other great birding locations of Utah County.

Meet at 7:30AM at Pioneer Crossing Park and Ride (West side of I-15, Exit 278). We'll finish and return to the Park and Ride around noon. Those in SLC area can meet at 6:50AM in SE corner of ShopKo parking lot in Sugarhouse to carpool. Send an email to Jeff Cooper if you are interested in joining the trip: jeffcooper7@gmail.com

Limited to 15.

GSLA SEPTEMBER FAMILY ACTIVITY: THE AMAZING BIRD RACE

Location: Liberty Park

Meet outside of the entrance of Tracy Aviary, Sunday, September 21st, at 3PM

Maybe you have seen geese gathering in our parks, or fewer hummingbirds at your feeders...the signs of the beginning of this fall's migration are all around, and many local birds are preparing to hit the road and head south! Join us in the afternoon on Sunday, September 21st for Great Salt Lake Audubon's Amazing Bird Race, an activity in which families will transform into their own flock of birds and go on a scavenger hunt through Liberty Park to locate what they need for a successful migration, and then undertake some of the perils and rewards migrations present.

The activity will begin at 3PM in Liberty Park. We will meet in front of the Visitor Center of Tracy Aviary before heading into the park to our activity stations for an icebreaker and the scavenger hunt. Expect to spend about an hour and a half adventuring with your family, getting to know other family flocks, and have a terrific time celebrating the amazing journeys many of our local birds take. Please dress for the weather, and prepared to be actively moving throughout the park for the duration of the activity. It will be as fun as it is educational, and appropriate for families with members of all ages.

The Amazing Bird Race is just the first of activities that the Great Salt Lake Audubon will be holding over the next year, created by its Education Committee. If you and your family plan to attend, an RSVP to jenn.r.waterhouse@gmail.com is requested but not required. We hope to see you there!
