GENERAL MEETING

All programs are on the 3rd Tuesday of the month from September through May, excluding December. They take place at the Sugarhouse Garden center at the NE corner of Sugarhouse Park (enter from 2100 South, just west of Highland High). Doors open at 6:30PM for refreshments and socializing, program begins at 7PM, with announcements, and then the speaker shortly afterward.

For November, GSLA in collaboration with Westminster College’s Great Salt Lake Institute is excited to present Rosalie Winard’s presentation titled: “A Spectacle of Wings”

Rosalie has spent the last 30 years enamored with wetland birds. While receiving her bachelor’s degree in Natural History, with a specialization in Ornithology and Ethology from New College of Florida, she conducted a field study on Brown Pelican’s threat and greeting displays. Receiving one of the first-ever Student Originated Study Grants, she worked for the National Science Foundation censusing bird populations in Florida before being led to documentary film, video art, and finally photography. Winard’s award winning photographs have appeared in numerous publications including Artforum, The New York Times, The Los Angeles Times Magazine, Forbes, LeMonde, and on 60 Minutes. Her pictures are in the permanent collections of the Brooklyn Museum of Art and the Library of Congress, and in the private collections of Nelson Mandela, Oliver Sacks and many others.
Mission Statement: Great Salt Lake Audubon is dedicated to protecting and enhancing habitat for wild birds, animals and plants, and to maintaining healthy and diverse environments for wildlife and people throughout the state.

President’s Message
by Leslie K. Orgera

Calling All Members! Last month, I introduced myself and set out three critical priorities for GSLA. First, building our membership base. Second, developing a long-term plan for the Jordan River Restoration Project (JRRP), including the establishment of an endowment to cover the costs of the property’s administration. And third, working more effectively with other conservation organizations to leverage our collective efforts.

I am happy to report that in the last two months the Board has taken a large step towards the creation of a strong funding base and endowment for the JRRP. This has been accomplished by renewing Bruce Heath’s employment contract which focuses his time on fund raising. I hope you will all join the Board in thanking Bruce for taking on this new challenge and redirection of his energies. Given that Bruce will be tracking down grants and other sources of funding, we have immediate opportunities for volunteers to step up and help with the many operational tasks that Bruce was formerly handling. If you know of someone who is not a GSLA member but who might be great at one of the tasks below – invite them to join us! This will help us with Priority One – building our membership base.

The following list represents our most pressing needs. But if you have an interest in a specific area that you do not see listed, let us know. We need help in that area too!

General Office Assistance, Finance: Track incoming bills and make sure that they get to the Board for timely payment. Assist Geoff Hardies (Treasurer) with creation of and tracking GSLA’s annual budget.

Long-Term Plan for Jordan River Restoration Project:
This is a task for many volunteers! If you have an interest in assisting with the drafting of this critically important document contact Leslie or Bruce.

Filing and Organizing GSLA’s File Archive:
Go through old boxes of files and segregate into usable folders. Help Bruce with solving our long-term storage space problem. Represent GSLA at meetings of partner organizations and general outreach: Attend meetings of Linking Communities, Am. Ornithology Association, Great Salt Lake Bird Festival.

Conservation: Research conservation issues for the Board.
Publicity: Distribute flyers for our monthly General Meeting around town (e.g. libraries, schools, etc.), market GSLA to families and young adults, assist with newsletter preparation and mailing, staff GSLA Events.

Sunflower Seed Sale: Sandy and June really need an “under-study” to assist with next year’s sale.

GSLA Gala: We need a Committee Chair and committee for next year. Sylvia has incredible notes and if we can find someone now, the planning will be very do-able.

If you have a commitment to participate at any level, we welcome your suggestions and need your help! We are ready, willing and able to create a project that fits your time commitment as well as being fun.

For those with email, please feel free to send your comments and ideas to gsla03@xmission.com. For those who prefer to communicate via letter, our mailing address is: Great Salt Lake Audubon, P.O. Box 520867, Salt Lake City, Utah 84152-0867.
BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS
SEPTEMBER—OCTOBER 2010

By Nancy Bill, Secretary

Sylvia Gray and her volunteers planned and worked hard on the Gala which took place September 16. The Board complimented them on a smashing success. There were 125 people present for the dinner with no room for more. Bruce thought we could get more people if we had more room and suggested we should get someone to volunteer to manage next year’s Gala soon. Geoff Hardies worked hard on figuring out the expenses and income of the Gala. We are lucky to have Geoff as Treasurer.

Sandy Bassett dropped off checks already collected for the Sunflower Seed Sale. June Ryburn will take over while Sandy is on vacation. Volunteers are needed for loading and unloading the bags of sunflower seeds on November 20th.

Heather Dove wanted to know how much it costs to send The Pelican to members who belong only to National. Their dues do not cover the cost after the first year of membership. Heather is working on a message to urge people to consider renewing at both the local and national level to help our local chapter.

Programs for the General Meetings at the Sugarhouse Garden Center were discussed.

Should GSLA join with Friends of the Great Salt Lake in their lawsuit to stop the planned expansion of GSL Minerals which would greatly affect the water levels in the Great Salt Lake and probably destroy the Pelican rookery on Gunnison Island? The potential development of the Northwest Quadrant was also discussed. Please give us your ideas and feelings about these important issues. Should we be involved?

The Jordan River Restoration Committee received notice that National Audubon is contributing $15,000 to the project. Keith Johnson reported that on August 24, thirty kids worked there. Jaimi Butler has pools of Westminster students who could work on the project. Tara Poelzing said there could be a long-term plan for a Nature Center. She handed out outlines on GSLA Jordan River Wildlife Refuge and the agreement with Fish and Wildlife—a 5 year project. A brochure to aid in fund raising is needed. More volunteers are needed.

Geoff Hardies is working to reconcile bank statements, the payroll issue for Bruce, a report for National Audubon, and income taxes.

Bruce’s new contract will refocus on funding for the Jordan River Restoration so volunteers need to jump in and fill in where Bruce has been previously active.

The new attorney for GSLA is John Davis, who is working pro bono, and comes highly recommended by Leslie Orgera. He will be asked to give his legal opinion on the South Jordan easement issue. Leslie will be completing the annual report for the National Audubon Society.

GSLA thanks the voters of Salt Lake County for their support of the Zoo, Arts & Parks Gala. The Board complimented the success of the gala.

Gala a Great Success

Our annual gala fundraiser, called “Bucks for Birds”, was held September 16th at the new downtown Episcopal Church Center of Utah with 125 people attending and having a great time.

Greeting people on arrival was the original painting of “Bucks for Birds” by Kim Roush. Eric Spreng provided some delightful acoustic guitar music. Our visitors from Tracy Aviary, a Great Horned Owl, and her handler provided an up close and informative experience. An exhibit focused on GSLA’s Jordan River Restoration Site including a slide show of Karri Smith’s wetland bird photos, showed off a habitat now more attractive to birds. A large portion of the funds raised that evening will support this ambitious ongoing project.

The Silent Auction area was buzzing with excited bidders browsing while eating tasty snacks and drinking. The second half of the evening included a sit-down dinner with a slide show of bird photos by Paul Higgins, raffle drawings, and a lively Heads or Tails game. Both Jen Hajj and Nathan Darnall were deservedly honored for their years of service to GSLA and Keith Johnson was honored with the Volunteer of the Year Award. The evening culminated in the energetic bidding of the Live Auction.

And so THANKS to all of you who came to support us, THANKS to our sponsors and donors, and a special THANKS to all who worked so hard behind the scenes for the past 7 months - the Gala Committee members, and other Volunteers.

We wish to recognize RIO TINTO as the major corporate sponsor and thank the following for their significant support: Jennifer Speers, Patagonia Outlet, Jane Macfarlane, Atlantic Richfield, Backcountry.com, Holiday River Expeditions, and IHI Environmental
We had an incredible number of donations from many businesses and individuals.

And finally the list would not be complete without the acknowledgement and my profound thanks to the dedicated, hard working and talented Gala Committee and Volunteers.
